

QUARANTUNE

B	I	N	G	O
Play a song over the phone to a family member	Practice on Sunday	Thank your parents for piano lessons - tell them something you like about playing piano	Make up a story to go with the piece of music you are learning - think of it as you play	Put a timer on for 15 minutes and play as many songs as you can, as well as you can
Listen to your recording as help with the dinner dishes	Use the Decide Now app during a practice	Learn 3 facts about minuets	Play a concert for your parent	Teach your parent a line from a song you are playing
Play your favourite piece in 3 different ways	Use your practice die to figure out the number of times you should practice something	 Edmonton SUZUKI Piano School	Learn 3 facts about Frederic Chopin	Record a performance and send it to a family member
Play one of your pieces using a metronome	Work ahead: start learning a new piece on your own	Write down a question you have about music – and ask your teacher	Practice on Saturday	Play your review piece staccato
Practice piano two times in one day	Tackle the thing that is most challenging this week and practice that part 5 times	Perform in a concert by Facetime, Skype or other medium	Listen to your newest piece 10 times on repeat	Share a fact about music that your parent probably doesn't know

QUARANTUNE

B	I	N	G	O
Investigate what the 3 pedals are used for and explain it to your parent	Play the loud parts quietly and the quiet parts loudly	Play all of your pieces using a metronome	Practice on Tuesday	Share a fact about music that your parent probably doesn't know
Have fun improvising with the black keys - make up two melodies	Learn 3 facts Ludwig van Beethoven	Practice on Sunday	Work ahead: start learning a new piece on your own	Perform for your stuffies and ask your parent to take a photo for your teacher
Do some work in your Volume 2 Workbook	Get dressed up to practice piano	 Edmonton SUZUKI Piano School	Practice twice in one day	Thank your parents for piano lessons - tell them something you have learned about music
Record a performance and send it to a family member	Play a concert for your parent	Introduce your parent to a scale of your choosing – teach them how to play it	Learn 3 facts about sonata form	Play your recording as you help with a household chore
Learn a new scale	Write down a question you have about music – and ask your teacher	Use the Decide Now app during a practice	Listen to your newest piece 10 times on repeat	Perform in a concert by Facetime, Skype or other medium

QUARANTUNE

B	I	N	G	O
Teach yourself to play "Happy Birthday to You" - try starting on G	Listen to your recording as you help with the dishes	Learn a new scale	Wear a costume during practice	Compose something that reflects how you feel right now
Look ahead in your music to a piece you haven't played yet – try sight-reading it	Use a metronome during practice	Introduce your parent to a scale of your choosing – teach them how to play it	Use your practice die to figure out the number of times you should practice something	Practice piano two times in one day
Practice on Saturday	Learn 3 facts about Bela Bartok		Make up a story to go with the piece of music you are learning - think of it as you play	Record a performance and send it to a family member
Tackle the thing that is most challenging this week and practice that part first	Teach your parent to play one of your songs	Write down a question you have about music – and ask your teacher	Practice on Wednesday	Thank your parents for piano lessons - tell them what your favourite piece is
Play a song over the phone for a family member	Investigate what the 3 pedals are used for and explain it to your parent	Perform in a concert by Facetime, Skype or other medium	Teach yourself to play "O Canada" by ear - try starting on E	Play your review piece legato

QUARANTUNE

B	I	N	G	O
Work ahead: start learning a new piece on your own	Practice on Friday	Play all of your pieces using a metronome	Learn 3 facts about J.S. Bach	Look ahead in your music to a piece you haven't played yet – try sight-reading it
Practice twice in one day	Have fun improvising with the black keys - make up two melodies	Practice on Sunday	Write down a question you have about music – and ask your teacher	Make up a story to go with the piece of music you are learning - think of it as you play
Tackle the thing that is most challenging this week and practice that part first	Draw a picture about one of the songs you are learning	 Edmonton SUZUKI Piano School	Compose something that reflects how you feel right now	Investigate what the 3 pedals are used for and explain it to your parent
Teach a family member to play one of the Twinkles	Thank your parents for piano lessons - tell them which song you are excited to learn	Play the legato parts staccato and the staccato parts legato	Practice on Monday	Experiment with the rhythm of a song - turn it into a sad piece
Record a concert for a family member you haven't seen in a while	Teach yourself to play "Happy Birthday to You" - try starting on G	Make up a story to go with the piece of music you are learning - think of it as you play	Learn three facts about the Baroque period of music	Practice piano two times in one day